PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

- Over the first quarter of 2025, CI North American Small/Mid Cap Equity Fund, Series F (the Fund) returned -6.2% compared with its benchmark, the 70% S&P/TSX Completion Total Return Index, 30% S&P MidCap 400 Total Return Index, which returned -1.4%.
- The Fund underperformed its benchmark largely as a result of security selection in the financials sector and allocation to the materials sector.

CONTRIBUTORS TO PERFORMANCE

A holding in Waste Connections Inc. contributed to the Fund's performance. The company benefited from robust price realization and cost optimization efforts. We continue to invest in the company because Waste Connections enjoys recession-resilient demand and has an attractive runway for mergers and acquisitions.

Another notable contributor to the Fund's performance was a holding in TMX Group Ltd. The company saw robust subscriber growth for its energy trading and exchange-traded fund analytics (VettaFi) platforms. We remain shareholders of the company due to TMX Group's commanding market share in Canada and opportunities to grow in the United States and Europe with a broad suite of data analytics products.

DETRACTORS FROM PERFORMANCE

A holding in KKR & Co. Inc. detracted from the Fund's performance. The company's stock underperformed because the recent downturn in public equity markets made it more difficult to monetize portfolio holdings and could leave potential investors with limited liquidity to invest in new private funds offered by KKR. We continue to invest in the company because KKR's performance track record positions it to capture an outsized portion of new flows into alternative asset classes.

A holding in Colliers International Group Inc. also detracted from the Fund's performance. The company's stock underperformed because elevated interest rates depressed transaction activity for the purchase and leasing of commercial properties, especially within the office and retail segments. We remain shareholders of the company because Colliers International Group is well positioned to gain share when commercial real estate activity recovers, and to accelerate growth through strategic mergers and acquisitions.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

We added a new Fund position in The Cooper Cos. Inc., which manufactures contact lenses to correct vision conditions. Cooper also offers medical devices and fertility solutions to support women's health. We added a position in the company because Cooper generates attractive growth and operates in end markets with favourable competitive dynamics.

A holding in Softchoice Corp. was eliminated from the Fund because the company was acquired by World Wide Technology Holding Co. LLC at a 32% premium to the share price before the company's management announced a review of strategic alternatives, including a sale.

MARKET OVERVIEW

We expect trade tariffs imposed by the United States will place upward pressure on inflation, and thus, we favour businesses that have competitive advantages that allow them to exercise pricing power. Consumer spending will likely decline due to weaker sentiment and higher prices reflecting the added cost of tariffs. We are cautious towards companies that manufacture discretionary goods. We believe that the U.S. Federal Reserve Board may pull forward interest rate cuts but remain cautious about the magnitude of those cuts due to the upside risk to inflation presented by tariffs.

We expect the renewal of corporate tax cuts and general deregulation. We expect stimulus spending under the U.S. Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, Inflation Reduction Act and CHIPS and Science Act will partially offset slower activity in the private sector. We expect geopolitical conflicts to increase volatility in oil prices, but we remain selective within the energy sector due to its poor track record for capital allocation through the cycle.

We continue to position the Fund in companies that can endure any economic environment as well as businesses with short-term challenges that are trading at prices well below our estimate of their intrinsic value. We place an emphasis on balance sheet resilience and liquidity, which enables businesses to continue investing through an economic downturn and ultimately emerge stronger when economic conditions recover.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Liquidity: The degree to which an asset or security can be quickly bought or sold in the market without affecting the asset's price. Cash is considered to be the most liquid asset, while things like fine art or rare books would be relatively illiquid.

Volatility: Measures how much the price of a security, derivative, or index fluctuates. The most commonly used measure of volatility when it comes to investment funds is standard deviation.
