PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

- Over the fourth quarter of 2024, CI Select Canadian Equity Fund, Series F (the Fund) returned 3.8% compared with its benchmark (50% MSCI ACWI Index and 50% S&P/TSX Composite Index), which returned 4.6%.
- The Fund underperformed its benchmark primarily as a result of its underweight exposure to the information technology sector.

CONTRIBUTORS TO PERFORMANCE

The Fund's position in Shopify Inc. contributed to performance. The company's stock rose strongly following the release of its third-quarter 2024 results, which reported better-than-expected revenue and a positive update on its outlook.

Another contributor to the Fund's performance was a holding in Manulife Financial Corp. Its stock benefited from the company's ongoing improvement in return on equity and its reasonable valuation.

DETRACTORS FROM PERFORMANCE

A holding in Advanced Micro Devices Inc. detracted from the Fund's performance. The company released a lacklustre third-quarter 2024 financial report. There were also concerns around the company's competitive positioning against other microchip manufacturers.

Another detractor from the Fund's performance was a holding in TELUS Corp., which was affected by concerns around competitive intensity in the Canadian telecommunications market.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

During the quarter, we increased an existing Fund position in ARC Resources Ltd. based on its reasonable valuation and the favourable backdrop for natural gas pricing, particularly in the company's core region of Western Canada.

A Fund holding in Bank of Montreal was trimmed in favour of adding additional Fund exposure to The Toronto-Dominion Bank.

MARKET OVERVIEW

It is clear to us that global markets are entering 2025 with quite a bit of uncertainty, including the downward path of inflation, geopolitics, interest rates, economic strength and global trade policies. This will all unfold against a backdrop of elevated valuations in the world's largest equity market, the United States.

Despite the uncertainty and valuation backdrop, we have a positive view on the path forward for markets. While equity gains of 2024 may be difficult to replicate, conditions do not warrant an overly cautious approach. Put simply, we do not see the economic, monetary or market preconditions for a major drawdown in equities. Moderate economic growth should continue, and it is expected that central banks will continue to cut interest rates, albeit at a slower pace than expected earlier in 2024. Within this context, equity markets have a chance to perform well on both a relative and absolute basis.

With respect to Canadian equities, many investors are focused on trade concerns for Canada's economy. While this may be a challenge, we see strong positive trends, from moderate valuations to declining interest rates and a troughing of Canadian consumer weakness brought on by higher mortgage interest rates. These factors should be supported by increasing flows from Canadian and international investors, which leaves us positive on the Canadian backdrop, particularly on a relative basis. As such, the Fund holds an overweight position in Canadian equities at the onset of 2025.

IMPORTANT DISCLAIMERS

Commissions, trailing commissions, management fees and expenses all may be associated with mutual fund investments. Please read the prospectus before investing. The indicated rates of return are the historical annual compounded total returns net of fees and expenses payable by the fund (except for figures of one year or less, which are simple total returns) including changes in security value and reinvestment of all dividends/distributions and do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any securityholder that would have reduced returns. Mutual funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated.
